

Problem Statement

The University of Idaho's Tower Lights project currently runs on old unused Ethernet wiring in the Theophilus Tower. Our team is faced with the problem of turning the current Tower Lights control system into a battery powered wireless system.

